

REPLY TASK (FOR THE '3 R'S' METHOD)

Your teacher or teacher-librarian will have asked you questions, trying to lead you into new ways of thinking about the book. This is the spot where you reply to those questions. Do your best to answer each and every question you've been asked. You can even number the teacher's questions to be sure you don't miss any. Feel free to add other things or additional information, if the questions have made you think of something else!

Use the "parchment" below, or lined paper, to write back in response!

Dear _____,
